

Fact Sheet

Petite Feet (<http://petitefeetdance.com>) is a children's series of DVDs that introduces the basics of ballet, general dance and musical concepts in fun and engaging ways. Using original music, a likeable costumed character, colorful sets, and more, Petite Feet is sure to get young children dancing, moving, shaking, and enjoying themselves ... all in comfort of their own home.

ABOUT PETITE FEET: The Company

- Petite Feet provides engaging, fun ways to get kids moving via an easy and approachable introduction to the classic art form of ballet, all in the comfort of their own home.
- Targeted to boys and girls ages 2 – 6, Petite Feet uses imagination, creative movement, storytelling, and original music to teach the fundamentals of ballet, dance and musical concepts.
- Petite Feet was started in 2011 by Liz Vacco, the creator and owner. Currently getting her Master's degree in Education with a focus on elementary education, she is an LA-based performer, choreographer and educator, and has performed at Lincoln Center, St. Ann's Warehouse, Hanger Theatre, and many more. For nearly 15 years, Liz has taught dance, choreography, theater and yoga to children at various schools and studios and through various programs in New York City and Los Angeles, including New York City Ballet's Education Program and at Gabriella Charter School.

ABOUT PETITE FEET: Products

- Petite Feet launched its first DVD entitled, "Petite Feet: Ballet Adventures with Liz" in 2011, with much success.
- "Petite Feet 2: Ballet Adventures with Liz - The Alphabet Jungle" is the second DVD from Petite Feet, which launched in December 2014. The 35-minute DVD teaches the fundamentals of ballet while also exposing young children to the alphabet, fostering both the love of dance and learning.
